BEHAVIOUR POLICY

- House points will form our whole school reward system here at Broughton. They encourage a team ethos across the school and allow children of all ages to have a common goal. The House system is an effective way of promoting team spirit and encouraging children to aim high and take pride in achieving house-points. As children from every class are in every house, the system is an effective way to mix year groups and encourage older children to take care of younger ones and set an example for them.

- Children should strive to follow the attributes of the 'Broughton Learner'. These are displayed in the classrooms and are often referred to. A 'Broughton Learner' perseveres with learning, embraces challenge, learns with others and takes responsibility for their own learning.

- At Broughton, we acknowledge the importance of the Christian Values and recognise that these should thread through our daily lives. Our behaviour policy helps our children to understand how they can achieve the Christian Values in their everyday lives. Showing the Christian Values could lead to spontaneous rewards such as house points, however, there is no obligation that each child receives one. This will keep the importance of the meaning behind the values.
